Bibliographia Kepleriana: Supplements and Continuation 1975–1978—M. LIST. Kepler: A Personal Footnote—S. BOCHNER. Ephemerides of the Early Seventeenth Century—V. BIALAS. A Short History of Pulkovo Observatory—K. KRISCIUNAS. Problems of Variable Stars in Globular Clusters—L. ROSINO. Does Our Galaxy have a Violent History?—S. V. M.CLUBE. The Satellites of Mars: Proceedings of a Symposium held on 11 August 1977 at the U.S. Naval Observatory, Washington. Some Methods of Determining the Stellar Absolute Magnitude—A. HECK. New Methods and Old Principles for the Determination of Stellar Radial Velocities—A. H. BATTEN. Photometric Bibliographies (Bibliography of the Stromgren Four-Color and H-Beta Systems, 1950–1976)—A. G. DAVIS PHILIP and C. L. PERRY. Explosions in Galaxies—S. VAN DEN BERGH. Quasars: Observed Properties of Optically-Selected Objects at Large Redshifts—M. G. SMITH. Newton and the Enlightenment: Proceedings of an International Symposium held at Cagliari, Italy, on 3–5 October 1977.

Volume 23

Basic Morphological Data for Galactic Globular Clusters—G. ALCAINO. Ultraviolet Spectra of Planetary Nebulae—G. A. GURZADYAN. Kepler's Celestial Mechanics—U. HOYER. Sir John Herschel's Description of his 20-feet Reflector—B. WARNER. Kepler's Star Polyhedra—J. V. FIELD. Compact Galaxies—N. RICHTER. Leverrier to Einstein: A Review of the Mercury Problem—N. T. ROSEVEARE. Origin and Early Evolution of Galaxies—W. H. McCREA. Paleoastronomy and Nautiloid Growth: A Perspective—S. M. POMPEA, P. G. K. KHAN and R. B. CULVER. Kepler's Rejection of Solid Celestial Spheres—J. V. FIELD. Twenty Southern Peculiar Emission-Line Stars—E. D. CARLSON and K. G. HENIZE. The Long-Term Future of the Universe—J. N. ISLAM. CORAVEL—A New Tool for Radial Velocity Measurements—A. BARANNE, M. MAYOR and J. L. PONCET. Statistical Methods and Results in Analysing Star-Fields and Star-Configurations—J. MEURERS. The Enigma of Stephen Gray: Astronomer and Scientist (1666–1736)—D. H. CLARK and L. MURDIN.

Volume 24

Publisher's Notice—Dr ARTHUR BEER. The Numismatics of Astronomy—A. R. MICHAELIS. Hyper-Periods and Kirkwood Gaps—T. KIANG. Stochastic Phenomena in Astrophysics—E. KNOBLOCH. Catalogue of Ancient and Naked-Eye Comets—I. HASEGAWA. The Milankovitch Astronomical Theory of Paleoclimates: A Modern Review—A. BERGER. Comets—A Matter of Life and Death—Sir FRED HOYLE. The Geneva Seven-Colour Photometric System—M. GOLAY. Colour Photography in Astronomy—D. F. MALIN. Astronomy as a Specific Discipline and the Problems of Teaching It—V. KOURGANOFF. Rare-Earth Systematics in Ap and Am Stellar Spectra: Are New Theoretical Developments Required?—C. R. COWLEY. Research Priorities for Nearby Stars—I—M. J. HALLIWELL. Research Priorities for Nearby Stars—II—M. J. HALLIWELL. X-Ray Astronomical Spectroscopy—S. S. HOLT. Optical Aberrations of Parallax Telescopes—K. W. KAMPER. Formation of the Planets—G. P. HOREDT. Helium in the Galaxy—C. THUM.

Volume 25

SS 433: A New Extraordinary Object in Astrophysics: Proceedings of an International Conference held at the Centro Linceo Interdisciplinare of the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei, Rome on 8–10 October 1980. On the Dynamics of Jupiter's Atmosphere—G. E. HUNT. The Inner Satellites of Jupiter—J. VEVERKA, P. THOMAS and S. SYNOTT. Jupiter and Io: A Binary Magnetosphere—F. L. SCARF, F. V. CORONITI, C. F. KENNEL and D. A. GURNETT. The Atmosphere and Ionosphere of Jupiter—S. K. ATREYA and T. M.

DONAHUE. The Formation and Properties of Grains in the Interstellar Medium—S. J. CZYZAK, J. P. HIRTH and R. G. TABAK. Manuel Johnson and the St Helena Observatory—B. WARNER. Gravitational Interactions and the Origin of the Angular Momenta of Galaxies—P. S. WESSON. The Origin of Solar-Terrestrial Studies—A. J. MEADOWS and J. E. KENNEDY.

Volume 26

Astronomy in Ireland from Earliest Times to the Eighteenth Century—S. M. P. McKENNA-LAWLOR. Thin Mirrors for Large Optical Telescopes—J. CHENG and C. M. HUMPHRIES. The Evolution of Galaxies: Expectations and Observations—R. G. KRON. Life from Space—A History of Panspermia—H. KAMMINGA. Some Recent Developments in the Study of the Elements and Isotopes of the Cosmic Radiation—D. O'SULLIVAN. Gamma Ray Astronomy—B. P. HOUSTON and A. W. WOLFENDALE. The Planetary System of Barnard's Star—P. VAN DE KAMP. Star Formation and Abundance Gradients in the Galaxy—R. GÜSTEN and P. MEZGER. Galaxies in Clusters: Alignments, Formation from Pancakes, and Tidal Forces—P. S. WESSON. The Classification of Asteroids—J. K. DAVIES, N. EATON, S. F. GREEN, R. S. McCHEYNE and A. J. MEADOWS. A Perspectivist Review of Supermetallicity Studies—I—B. J. TAYLOR. A Perspectivist Review of Supermetallicity Studies—II—B. J. TAYLOR. The History of Meteors and Meteor Showers—D. W. HUGHES. Geomagnetic Observatories in the British Isles—P. R. ROBINSON. The Dust Shells of Novae and Supernovae—M. F. BODE.

Volume 27

The Cosmic Asymmetry in Matter–Antimatter—TONG BOR TANG and LI ZHI FANG. The Sedimentology of Mars: A Review—A. S. LEWIS. The Portraits of Edmond Halley—D. W. HUGHES. Erasmus Darwin's Contribution to Geophysics and Astronomy—D. KING HELE. Flare Stars—L. V. MIRZOYAN. Comet Dust—Applications of Mie Scattering—N. EATON. Some Observations of Martian Cloud Systems—G. E. HUNT and A. O. PICKERSGILL. Mass Transfer and Accretion in Close Binaries: A Review—C. B. BOYLE. The Origin of the Constellations—A. E. ROY. Cosmic Rays and Cosmology—N. C. RANA and A. W. WOLFENDALE. The Dynamics of the Minor Bodies in the Solar System—I. P. WILLIAMS. Megalithic Astronomy: The Last Five Years—C. L. N. RUGGLES. Observatory Chairs—C. STOTT. How Stars Form: A Synthesis of Modern Ideas—B. E. TURNER. The Influences of Planetary Environments on the Eruption Styles of Volcanoes—L. WILSON. Physical Properties of Comets—P. S. BUTTERWORTH. A Fibre-Optic Four-Channel Photometer—E. N. WALKER. New Results with the COSMOS Machine—H. T. MacGILLIVRAY and R. S. STOBIE.

Volume 28

Longitude Zero 1884–1984: Proceedings of an International Symposium held at the National Maritime Museum, Greenwich, London, 9–13 July 1984 to mark the centenary of the adoption of the Greenwich Meridian. The Observatories of the Canaries: On the Occasion of their Inauguration, June 28–29 1985. Editorial—Comet Halley 1985–86: Observations from Earth and Space—P. BEER. The Accuracy of Halley's Cometary Orbits—D. W. HUGHES. Arguments for an $\Omega = 1$, Low H_0, Baryon Dominated Universe—T. SHANKS. Kantian Epistemology as an Alternative to Heroic Astronomy—W. I. McLAUGHLIN.
